Course Review Form

Prior to committing to a new course and a new instructor, it is important to be fully aware of all of the important elements of the course. We’re all better off if we know what we’re getting into and what we are committing ourselves to. By the second day of class, you should review the syllabus, taking careful note of the course requirements, assignments, readings, etc. You should also review the following links:

- Course description and goals
- Course expectations and policies
- Grading policies and standards
- York College Academic Dishonesty Policies
- York College Communication Standards
- Course syllabus

Because of the high cost of printing, you are not required to print out these documents. You should bookmark them and expect to return to them as necessary. The course web site will be updated routinely and I expect that you will regularly review it. After you have reviewed the course web site and the relevant links, please complete the following:

* * *

I have reviewed the course syllabus and am fully aware of all the relevant course policies. In particular, I have read and understand the following:

_____ 1. Course requirements and assignments

_____ 2. Course standards for grading

_____ 3. Course expectations and policies, including expectations for studying outside of class

_____ 4. York College Academic Integrity Policy, including the nature and seriousness of plagiarism

_____ 5. York College Communication Standards

I agree to abide by these guidelines and standards and fulfill all the relevant responsibilities as a student in this course.
